

DXC Assure for Life and Wealth

Modernize your technology estate and simultaneously build new digital capability to fuel growth in the 21st century digital insurance market.

Stay relevant in today's market

In a rapidly evolving and competitive market, insurance carriers can retain loyalty by extending and deepening relationships — moving from a “once and done” transactional mindset to a pattern of continuous engagement. Today's digitally savvy consumers expect a more individualized experience, simplified purchasing and convenient service. To stay relevant, an insurance carrier must up its game in three areas: speed, customer experience and digital innovation.

State-of-the-art product development and recordkeeping tools help you rapidly develop new and unique insurance-related products.

A global integrated multilingual, multicurrency solution addressing regional regulations

Built on the DXC Assure Digital Platform, the new cloud-enabled, microservice-composed solution provides geography-specific systems of record for the Americas, Europe, Africa, Middle East and Asia Pacific.

Features

DXC Assure for Life and Wealth addresses insurance companies' biggest challenges: We help you with the following, and more:

- Streamline product introductions
- Manage IT costs and staffing constraints
- Offer out-of-the-box, straight-through processing
- Delight customers through contemporary customer engagement, whenever they wish and wherever they are

As the solution is modular, you can pick and choose what you need now and expand later. DXC Assure for Life and Wealth also works with your existing systems — you can extend legacy systems with new digital capabilities and avoid expensive system replacements and policy conversions.

Business value

More than just a system, DXC Assure for Life and Wealth also offers a gateway to a unique ecosystem of partners with innovative, differentiated capabilities that meet the ongoing needs of a new breed of customers.

The solution is available “as a service,” which means you don't need any expensive on-premises implementation projects.

In addition, you can leverage DXC's business process services (BPS) to create complete, standalone insurance operations and get to market quickly, without expending valuable internal resources. DXC Assure is fully integrated with, and operational in, our own BPS organization. With the integrated BPS offering you can consume both enabling technology and full third-party administration, including product configuration, new business, agent support, policy service, claims and more.
