

DXC Business Process Services: Property and Casualty Flood Insurance Services

Unrivaled flood insurance expertise from a global enterprise technology and innovation company

Simplify flood coverage for all your stakeholders — from agents and policyholders to insurance company executives.

Key benefits

User-friendly platform
delivered as a service:

- Simplifies flood insurance complexity while meeting compliance requirements
- Strengthens your compliance program and credibility with consistent NFIP audit success
- Expands your access to a wide, connected insurance solution ecosystem

Flood insurance is one of the most complex products insurers offer. As a federally regulated program, flood underwriting and claims require strict compliance with National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) rules. Insurers need systems and processes that consistently meet these standards.

Policyholders are also demanding more responsive service than traditional one-size-fits-all solutions provide. With industry shifting to the new NFIP rating, insurers need a partner that can quickly and easily navigate the policy and regulatory complexity of the flood program while supporting growth and operational efficiency.

A partner with the scale and expertise to help you grow

Eighty-five percent of Fortune 500 insurers rely on DXC Technology's insurance solutions to deliver full business process management and IT solutions. Our customers benefit from our deep NFIP and property and casualty (P&C) expertise, strong service delivery, and modern, reliable flood applications that support compliance and business expansion.

Our solutions are delivered as a service and as a business process service (BPS), making it easy for insurers and their customers to quote, service policies, manage claims and pass audits with confidence.

Expertise and insight make DXC the strategic choice

DXC has delivered flood insurance services for more than 30 years, and today we service more than 300,000 flood insurance policies.
