What if your reinsurance operations were driven by data, control and scale, not legacy complexity?

Reinsurance is a highly interconnected, data-intensive business, yet many reinsurers still rely on fragmented systems, manual processes and inflexible workflows. Managing multiline portfolios, diverse counterparties and evolving regulatory requirements can increase risk, limit scalability and reduce portfolio visibility.

Assure Reinsurance is a purpose-built administration platform providing end-to-end control across underwriting, technical accounting, claims and reporting — across both life and non-life business, inward and outward reinsurance, within a single controlled environment.
