

Integrated application solutions across your digital enterprise

DXC Technology and Micro Focus partner to help our customers achieve better results in applications development and modernization, security, analytics and information governance.

DXC and Micro Focus at a glance

- Recognized industry leaders offering a comprehensive portfolio of end-to-end solutions that help customers achieve measurable business outcomes
- Deep industry experience and a long history of joint development that results in tightly integrated solutions with rapid delivery
- Ongoing, aggressive investments in solutions that help our customers continuously improve and innovate

About Micro Focus

Micro Focus specializes in building, selling and supporting software. This single-minded approach puts customers at the center of innovation, enabling the company to deliver high-quality, enterprise-grade, scalable software. Micro Focus helps customers bridge old and new technologies by maximizing the return on investment of existing software investments and enabling innovation in a new hybrid model for enterprise IT.

Customer benefits

DXC and Micro Focus combine our strengths to help companies accelerate the move to a modern digital core — the essential element in realizing strategic goals such as developing new customer-friendly services, unlocking data from older applications and building a foundation that supports continuous business transformation.

Every solution we create, build and offer to the marketplace must be measured by the business outcomes it helps our customers achieve. Our joint portfolio offers a single source of end-to-end solutions that make effective results possible.

Companies can expect to:

- Realize improvements faster and with less risk
- Accelerate business decisions more quickly by accessing real-time data
- Secure critical corporate assets through improved governance models and policies

- Gain access to continuous innovation from our ongoing investments in solutions and services

Joint offerings/solutions

Applications. Together, DXC and Micro Focus help customers develop a modernization strategy that moves legacy applications and workloads to the right combination of private and public cloud architectures for their unique needs, optimize their development processes and testing protocols, and better manage their new, rationalized application portfolios more efficiently and effectively.

Security services. By providing applications security on demand powered by Micro Focus Fortify, we examine application portfolios to flag potential security vulnerabilities. Our security monitoring solutions also utilize the dynamic combination of ArcSight and Vertica-powered analytics from Micro Focus to afford companies valuable time for corrective action before a breach occurs.

25+

years of partnership

1,000+

joint customers worldwide

5,000+

Micro Focus trained DXC professionals

About DXC Partner Ecosystem

The DXC Partner Ecosystem is a curated ecosystem of partner relationships built on a foundation of collaboration, differentiation and innovation. Together, we work to deliver the right solution and the right team to address complex, critical customer business challenges. Learn more at dxc.com/partnerecosystem.

Predictive analytics. Our analytics platforms and services help customers create data-fueled organizations. Integrated consulting, design and engineering accelerates speed to value for predictive analytics, DevOps, information governance, testing and automation. Micro Focus Vertica software is leveraged to enable high-performance data analytics.

Wherever customers are in their data journey, we enable them to envision, design and modernize their data environment. Protect existing investments, expand margins, reduce risk and uncover new business opportunities by turning structured and unstructured data into insights that drive business outcomes.

Differentiation

DXC and Micro Focus have a long legacy of jointly engineering and delivering integrated, seamless solutions for our customers. Our joint business objectives, mutual investments, co-development efforts and ability to scale help our customers realize business value quickly. The breadth and depth of our portfolio and the range of solutions we provide reflect what a mature partnership can achieve.

Learn more at dxc.com/microfocus

Get the insights that matter.
dxc.com/optin

